MassBioEd’s Career Ambassador Program builds bridges between the classroom and careers in the life sciences. The Spotlight Series brings our Career Ambassadors Program online, featuring informational interviews from professionals in a wide range of disciplines, in a variety of companies. Whether you work in the lab, the manufacturing suite, or in an office - study enzyme pathways, design bioreactors, or analyze data, you can inspire students to see a future for themselves in a meaningful career. Professionals in all areas of this industry - human resources, marketing, sales, finance, or law - are also invited to participate and share their stories and insights.

Our goal is to broaden students’ horizons and encourage an interest in careers in the life sciences by allowing industry professionals like you to share your enthusiasm for your work and the paths that brought you to where you are today.

How do I become an Ambassador?

If you would like to be featured in an upcoming Career Ambassador Spotlight, please contact our Volunteer Coordinator at volunteer@massbioed.org.

Learn More At www.MassBioEd.org